

Dear Parents,

We have some great news! Your child's school has teamed up with Emily's Hope to bring a unique Substance Use Prevention Curriculum to students in Kindergarten through 5th grade. Our curriculum is designed to teach kids about the impact of substances on the brain, body, and life, encouraging them to make healthier choices.

What Are We Covering?

The lessons focus on various aspects like the science behind substance use, its social and health implications, and even emotional wellness as your child faces challenges in life.

Here's How It Works

Teachers will be administering a short survey to students before and after they go through the curriculum. These surveys will help us measure how effective our program is.

Why Are We Doing This?

Your child's participation in the surveys will support our ongoing research and help us make the curriculum as impactful as possible.

Safety First!

Your child's privacy is our top priority. No personal information will be collected, and all data will be used solely for research by Emily's Hope.

What's in it for Your Child?

Participating in this program will not only educate them but also contribute to the well-being of their peers and communities by helping us refine our approach.

You're in Control

Participation is entirely optional. If you'd rather your child not take part, just let their teacher know, no questions asked.

Questions?

Feel free to reach out to our Education Administrator, Valerie Peters, for any queries you might have. You can email her at Valerie@emilyshope.charity.
